

Service: Articulate Analytics

Understand what is going on in your project or programme with visualisations of live delivery data

Typical Benefits

This service provides visualisations of and insights into live delivery data collected from your project or programme, providing you with an enhanced understanding of what is going on, so:

- You are able to answer delivery questions like:
 - What is my current risk exposure (by project / workstream)?
 - What are my top open risks, issues and change requests?
 - Where do risks, issues and actions come from and how long do they take to resolve (by project / workstream)?
 - Could we have seen the issues coming (were we aware of them as risks first)?
 - How are my projects spending against their forecasts and their budgets? Are we on track to deliver on budget?
- You have a better understanding of what is going on under the covers of your programme or project,
- You have better control of the programme or project, improved predictability in delivery, and hence improved credibility with and confidence from across the business.

Overview and typical delivery approach

- We review data sources with you, and understand the questions you want the data to answer.
- We review the quality of the data available and how best to answer the questions you want to ask.
- We build an online visualisations of live programme or project data to answer your questions.

Timelines depend on complexity of data manipulation and suitability for answering your questions, your priorities, and other services being delivered concurrently for the same client.

Deliverables

- An online reporting portal comprising visualisations of live delivery data that answer your delivery questions.

Client testimonial

“In what was the third time I have worked with Ken Burrell, I engaged Pragmatic PMO on a strategic programme that had been running in feasibility mode for 8 months, and was about to move into implementation. When Pragmatic PMO was engaged, we had no project management function or framework to support the programme I had come in to recover. As a result the programme had little in the way of basic project management infrastructure.

Pragmatic PMO implemented just enough project management fundamentals and discipline to enable the programme to robustly deliver some fantastic outcomes for the client. If you are looking for strategic programme delivery support services that you can actually lean on, Pragmatic PMO should be at the top of your list.”
